A Hind of Visiting and Resident Physicians and a Perject for Souting Trained Nurses to the Romes of the Sich.

Last night the Board of Trustees of the Church Hospital and Dispensary of the Protestant Episcopal Church n the city of New York " gave a dinner to the Advisory Board of Ministers at the Manhattan Club. The event ras entirely social, though the only subject discussed was the new institution and its purposes, plans, and future. Little has been heard of this new institution. Although it was incorporated Jan. 20, the money has all been raised, a medical and surgical staff has been chosen, and a suitable establishment has been fitted up in houses, formerly occupied as dwellings, at 102 and 104 West Portyfirst street. To-morrow the dispensary will be opened for business.

The officers of the new institution are Edward A. Quintard, President: A. M. Palme, Vice-President: Thomas L. James, Treasurer, and Dr. Richard Kalish, Secretary, These of-neers and John C. Haddock, John King, Appleton C. Clark. Dr. Edward Quintard, Chauncey M. Dopew, Dr. Bobert C. Myles, J. Pierpont roy, George B. Post, Jr., and Samuel M. Stanton are the trustees. The Advisory Board con siats of the Rev. Drs. George H. Houghton, J. Wesley Brown, D. Parker Morgan, Arthur Brooks, David M. Greer, Arthur Ritchie, T. McKee Brown, Cornelius Duffle, the Rev. W. S. Rainsford, and E. Walpole Warren.

The purpose of this institution is to centralize the medical mission work of the Episcopal Church in this city. At present nearly every Episcopal Church has a dispensary service of some kind, and several, such as the Church of the Transilguration, St. Chrysustom's Chapel. St. Bartholomew's, and others have regular clinics. The new institution is the direct outgrowth of the Chine and dispensary of the Church of the Transilguration. It will not antagonize any churches which may elect to cominue their own dispensaries, nor is it to come into conflict with St. Luke's Hospital or St. Mary's. The principal object of the new movement is dispensary work, in which St. Luke's does not engage. A few years hence, when St. Luke's moves up town, the new institution aims to become the great down-town Episcopal hospital. From the beginning children will be sent to St. Mary's, as now, and the plan does not centemplate even encoronching upon the field now covered by this hospital. There will be no children's department in the new institution, and, indeed, the hospital part of it will be extremely small until St. Luke's moves away.

Dispensary work is to be conducted upon a plan new to this city, and, so far as known, to this country. The home in Forty-first street has been litted up with the special object of accommodating with ndvice and treatment a large number of daily visitors. A staff of eight physicians will be present daily, and four consulting physicians and an equal number of consulting surgeons will be in call. Every patient who applies for treatment will be "investigated." and a new except the deserving poor will be accepted. Religious belief will not count, provided the applicant is deserving. This being determined, each will have a private hearing, as in the office of a paid physician, and a surgical operation, sists of the Rev. Drs. George H. Houghton, J. Wesley Brown, D. Parker Morgan, Arthur when necessary, will be performed with all the privacy of a home. There will be no clinic in this hospital.

The distinguishing feature of the institution, however, will be home visitation. Experience in the small church dispensaries has shown that it is often a great hardship for the sick poor to leave their homes to visit the dispensary at stated times. The new dispensary is forming a corps of ten visiting physicians, who will be employed solely to attend patients in their own homes. The plan has been tried in London with success.

In connection with this visitation a system of nursing also new to this country is to be put into effect. Experience in the small church dispensaries has also dictated this plan. Dr. A. Alexander Emith, one of the consulting physicians, will visit London during the coming summer and investigate similar systems in use at 5t. Bartholomew and other hospitals of the Church of England. Upon his return a system will be insugurated here which will embody the employment of a considerable number of trained nurses who will go into the homes of the poor and nurse the sick under the charge of the visiting physicians. It is proposed to place this branch of the service under one of the existing physicians. It is proposed to place this branch of the service under one of the existing physicians. If the proposed to place this branch of the service under one of the existing physical sisterhoods. Until then two or three Risters of St. Marr's will be in attendance at the dispensary.

The staff siready chosen is as follows: Attending staff. Dr. Edward Quintard, general medicine: Dr. Charles T. Parker, general surgery: Dr. Richard Kallish, opthalmology; Dr. Robert C. Myles, laryngology and rhinology; Dr. Robert C. Myles, laryngology and rhinology; Dr. Robert C. Myles, laryngology; Dr. Charles Mc-Burney, Dr. Charles T. Poore and Dr. Franktholing swift, Dr. A. Alexander Smith, and Dr. T. Montague Swift; consulting physicians, Dr. W. Lester Carr, and consulting orthopedic surgeon, Dr. John Riddar. A charge

EXERER, N. H., April 28.-The residence of the principal of the Phillips Exeter Academy. the Town Hall, and the sidewalks about town were painted in variegated colors last night by students. Surmounting the cupola of the Town Hall stands an immonse figure of Justice. At the peril of life the students succeeded in reaching the cupola and painted upon its base in large letters insults to the principal of the academy and several other members of the faculty and also to the Chief of Police The language was obscene. On the sidewalks about town are painted in black, red. and green the figures "92." It is presumed that about town are painted in black, red, and green the figures "92." It is presumed that it may be the work of that class, although many of the members denounce the action. It has always been the custom for the senior class to perpetrate jokes during the last term of the year, and it is believed that this is the beginning of the series of demonstrations which usually enliven the spring term at Exeter. On the principal's residence, painted in very large red letters and executed in a very artistic manner, are the words. "Saloon, C. E. Fish, proprietor." This action is probably due to the fact that Mr. Fish has been vigorously enforcing the liquor laws in the town, and is absolutely fearless in the matter. The other members of the faculty whose names are printed on the town hall are also members of the Law and Order League.

By some it is thought that persons outside of the Academy may have had something to do with the matter. The direct result of last spring's rictous demonstrations is a smaller aftendance at the Academy this year. This is the third time the boys have painted the guidess in a glaving red petiticat. The class of St covered the goddess with a coat of red paint. There is no night force of police.

Illness of Mr. Autonio Yzonga.

Mr. Antonio Yznaga is seriously ill at his apartments in the Lenox. Fifth avenue and Thirty-sixth street. He came from his plantation in Louisiana early last week to serve as witness for Mme. de Barrios at her marriage e Señor de Roda. Mr. Yznaga was a guest at Mme, de Barrios's dinner party, which took place a week ago last night, and was taken il at the table and obliged to retire. He was put to bed, and his physician. Dr. Egbert I Guernsey, was summoned. The Doctor pronounced it a well-defined case of grip. On Tuesday night and yesterday afternoon Mr. Yanaga's condition was considered critical. He was said to be a little better list night.

Mr. Yanaga intended to sail for Europe in a few days. In company with his wife, whose custom it has been of Into years to pass the winter months on the Louisiana plantation. Mr. Yanaga is the father of the Duchess of hianchester. Lady Lister Kays, Miss Emily Yanaga, who for years has lived with her sisters in England, and Mr. Ferdinand Yanaga. Who some years after his divorce from his great wife, who was a sister of Mrs. Cornelius Yanderbilt and is now Mrs. Tiffany, married the beautiful Miss Mabel Wright. nounced it a well-defined case of grip.

MRS. WALDEN BENTENCED. Like Some Other Women Prisoners, Sh Appears to Have Recovered.

Annie Walden had been transformed from a weak, half-fainting, emotional young woman, such as she appeared to be when she was convicted of murder in the second degree for slaying her young husband. James Walden, who she was arraigned before Justice Ingraham of the Court of Oper and Terminer yesterday for sentence. She stepped forward with decisive step when called to the bar for sentence and betrayed no emotion when sentenced to im-prisonment for life in the Blackwell's Island penitentiary. On leaving the bar she glanced indifferently but boldly around the court room. After Assistant District Attorney Simms, in the absence of Mr. Weilman, had made the formal motion for sentence, William F. Howe, counsel for Mrs. Walden, made the usual motion for a new trial, which was denied. Ho had not heard the summing up of Mr. Wellman, and he desired to say that Mr. Wellman had treated him unfairly. Mr. Wellman, in his remarks, had said that Mr. Howe had pinched woman to make her cry at the proper time for its effect on the jury. In his practice of such conduct in court. Justice Ingraham said he had not heard the remark, or he should have stopped Mr. Well-thirty-four years he had never been guilty of

When asked if she had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon her, Mrs waldon threw her head back, tossed her widow's weeds aside with her right hand, and said firmly and deliberately:

"I have not had a proper trial. I have not been justly dealt with. The witnesses have perjured themselves, I have been grossly treated, and I do not think that I have been dealt with at all as a prisoner should have been. Not by Mr. Howe turning to Mr. Howel I beg your pardon. But my witnesses have not been called, and I have not been treated properly in any war.

At this point she hesitated, and Justice Ingraham said:

"Anything else?"

"Well," she continued, "the District Attorney subporned my witnesses that I wanted and kept them out of the court room. I also wish to say that Mrs. Green and that boy (Derrickle) perjured themselves. I think that is all. That is all that I can say."

Justice Ingraham said that the jury had dealt lenlently with the prisoner in giving her the benefit of a doubt of premeditation, as the evidence would have warranted a vertilet of murder in the first degree. He then imposed sontence.

Mr. Wellman subsequently denied her state-Waldon threw her head back, tossed her mother in the first degree. In then imposed sontence.

Air, Wellman subsequently denied her statement concerning her three interviews.

Much comment was caused in the courts about the alleged exposure by hir. Wellman of the efforts at diramatic effect claimed to have been made in several recent cases. In a conversation on this subject with an attaché of the District. Attorney's office Recorder Smyth recently said, after the acquittal of a woman, that it seemed impossible to convict a woman of murder in the first degree.

In the present case Mr. Wellman did say that on a recent trial Mr. Howe had taken the hands of the woman prisoner away so as to show her tear-stained face to the jury, and had pinched or wrung one of them so that she made an effective outery. Other dramatic efforts had been made in the case of the woman Cignaralo, who, from the dying woman of the trial had become one of the strongest and most troublesome of prisoners.

The case to which Mr. Wellman referred in which he charged Mr. Howe with causing the woman's outery, was that of Ella Nelson, who was acquitted in General Sessions of the murder of Samuel Post.

The renearsal by a woman before trial and under direction of the partshe is to play is said about the District Attorney's office to be common in such cases. The story of counsel giving a sign with a handkerchief to his assistant, who treads on nie client's toes, is bandled about as an ordinary manueuva.

Mr. Wellman declined to discuss the matter, but said counsel for the defence had a right to make dramatic efforts in behalf of their clients, and he thought the proceeding attorney had the right to call attention to them. sontence.

and priests of New York and Brooklyn, in all numbering about 50th, were in the building. President Fornes, Archbishop Corrigan, Judge O'Brien, and John D. Crimmins made congratulatory speeches, and Bishop McDonnell fittingly responded.

Resolutions were adopted which said, among other things: "We have been witness, in troublous days, to the loyalty and devotion with which he ever unflinchingly stood by his chief, our beloved and venerable Archbishop. We have found edification and instruction in every utterance that proceeded from him. His teachings, like the teachings of the Most Reverend Archbishop, are solid, simple, and without compromise. He holds with the Archbishop that the only education really beneficial to our Catholic children is one that is thoroughly Catholic, given in Catholic schools by Catholic teachers, using Catholic books, and breathing a Catholic atmosphers."

Among those at the reception were James 8. Coleman, Herman Ridder, Judge Fitzgerald, Begister Fitzgerald, Judge Daly, Judge Glegerich, ex-Mayor Grace, and Adrian T. Iselin.

Father Taylor, the new director of the club, is the priest who administered the last sacraments of the Catholic Church to Gen. Shorman. He is about 40 years ald, and has been a priest for fifteen years. Before he became tastor of the Church of the Biessed Sacrament four years ago he was stationed at the Church of the Sacred Beart in West Fifty-first street. Mayor Grant is a member of his congregation.

Shot Himse'f in the Barn Cellar Where He

KETPORT, April 28. - James A. Lake, 71 years old, a wealthy farmer of Holmdel, committed suicide early this morning by shooting himself through the right temple. He lived with his niece, Mrs. Hopper, on his farm, which was one of the finest in the county. He lost his wife about four years ago, and had not been the same man since. On April 6 he went to Philadelphia and wrote back to Mrs. Hopper Philadelphia and wrote back to Mrs. Hopper that he would never return. He came back, though, about a week ago, apparently demented. When he did not come down at the usual hour this morning Mrs. Hopper went up to his room, but did not find him there. The bed had been occupied, and Mrs. Hopper went to the barn, expecting to find him at work there. Instead she found him sitting on a basket in a potato bin in the cellar, dead, with a pistol lying near him.

It has been said that Lake became demented in consequence of the refusal of an offer of marriage, but both the woman and Lake's relatives deny the existence of such a causalirs, hopper says lake was a very religious man, and for years had gone to the potato cellar every morning to pray. He left a letter addressed to Mrs. Hopper, but she refused to dividing its contents.

Scarpo May Die of Sundici's Blow.

Frank Scarpo and Joseph Sundici. Italians employed in digging a cellar for a now building in Nunda avenue, near Sip avenue, Jersey City Heights, quarrelled yesterday morning. City Heights, quarrolled yesterday morning, and Sundici brought his shovel down edgewise on Searpo's head. Searpo fell unconscious, and Sundici tried to run away, but was held by some of the other workmen. Word was sent to the Seventh precinct police, and Detective O'Nell was sent to arrest Sundici. The prisoner vigorously resisted, and the detective found it necessary to draw his revolver to subdue him. Foarpo was taken to the City Hospital. It is though that his wound is mortal-sundici said through an interpreter that it was an accident.

WOMEN BURNED TO DEATH AN EXPLOSION AND A FIRE IN THE POPULOUS CAYUGA FLATS.

Several of the Tennuts Bravely Rescued-ignition of Kaphtha Fumes in Dr. Brigge's Office Started the Finmes Which Burned Out the Building-Two Vic. ims.

Residents in the neighborhood of Broadway and Thirty-third street and passers-by were startled at 11 o'clock resterday morning by an explosion which forced into the street the plate glass front windows of the flat on the west of the entrance to 111 West Thirty-third street, and wrenched from its fastenings the door leading from the apartment into the hallway. The explosion was followed by a broad sheet of flame which shot into the street. The fire quickly found its way to the stairway, and with great rapidity spread from floor to floor until the whole interior of the uilding seemed on fire.

The flat is one of two known as the Cayuga flats, and is a five-story and basement structure with four flats on each floor, every one of which was occupied. Pifty-five persons lived in the burned house, and it is estimated that there were fully thirty-five in the building

A. Moore, 73 years old, who lived with her sister.

While Miss Moore was being carried out of the building firemen of Hock and Ladder 21 were engaged in another rescue. Dr. James E. Briggs, in whose office the explosion had occurred, had been stunned, but had recovered and was making desperate efforts to reach the outer air. A well-directed stream of water subdued the flames, and Fireman Henry Hanlon rushed into the building and dragged him out. His hair and beard were burned and his skin blackened. He and Miss Moore were taken in the same ambulance to the New York Hospital. Dr. Briggs had been in the building nearly half an hour after the explosion took place.

Half an hour later the deluge of water which had been turned on the building had subdued the flames, so that it was possible to make a search of the interior. On the fourth foor landing the irsemen found the body of a woman burned beyond recognition. Another corpectative, and the only means of identifying it were a burnt remant of pink dress goods and a part of a set of alse teeth. These bodies were wrapped in blankets, lowered to the street, and removed to the Thirtieth street police station.

The rescued residents of the flat were cared for by nelghbors or huddled in the stable next door. They had saved very little of their household goods. All were accounted for but two, Mrs. William Alexander, aged 28 years, and her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, whose husband, William Jones, is a painter in Greenpoint. They lived on the fourth floor, occupying two flats. Late in the afternoon the bodies were positively identified as those of these women. Mr. Alexander, who is shipping cierk for Charles J. Stebbins, hardware merchant, at 103 leade street, said that his wife was expecting shortly to be confined.

Several tenants had narrow escapes. Roundsman Geogehegan carried out Mrs. William King, who was found on the third floor unconscious. The pool room clerks. O'lirien and Leary, carried three little children out of the burning building, while John F. O'Neill, night watchman of the flat, rescued the infant son of J. Fitzsimmons, who had been left behind on the first floor by his frightened mother when she oscaped at the first alarm. O'Neill also saved Sarah J. Cook, a four-year-old girl, who lived on the second floor with her parents. Fireman Henry Hanlon, who rescued Dr. Briggs, was tadly burned, and was sent home by Fire Commissioner Hobbins. P. Neville, an old man, who lived with his daughter on the second floor, was severely burned about the hands and neck while fighting his way through the flames to the front floor. His wounds were dressed at Wilson's drug store.

At the New York Haspital it was said that Dr. Briggs, who is 54 years old, will probably be discharged cured in two weeks, despite the burns which he suffered, Miss Moore had been able to leave the hospital with a nephew after buving her burns dressed.

Dr. Briggs said that he was engaged in cleaning a couch in his room, using a can of naphitha. He thought friction must have occasioned the ignition of the fumes. The police and Fire Marshal believe there must have been a burning gas jet or a candle near. The Cayuga flats were formerly known as th

The Poek Board Proposes to Hold Every-thing from the Battery to 139th Street. Acting Mayor Arnold presided at a meeting of the Sinking Fund Commissioners yesterday. Comptroller Myers persisted in his veto of the application of the Dock Commissioners for $500,000 worth of bonds for the purchase of water-front lands along Riverside Park, between Seventy-second and 129th streets. The bonds cannot issue without his assent. All the other members of the Commission were with the Dock Board, but the Comptroller said when Mr. McLaughlin said: "No! You are only wasting time. I shall pos-itively not vote for that resolution or for any "Mr. Comstock, Mr. Lynn can attend to this other that means the same thing. The Dock Board has now at its disposal $1,300,000 which can be used for the purpose, and I am opposed to the issue of any more bonds. It seems to me that the land should be taken for or by the Park Department, if the idea is not to build docks here, but to prevent the erection of unsightly buildings on the edge of the Park." He said that the land was made use-less for docks by the steep bluff. It would cost $10,000,000 to make it available for docks. Proceedings had already been begun for taking land for the new Twelfth avenue, and what will remain after this thoroughfare is built would not cost more than $275,000 if taken by ondemnation proceedings. He moved to au thorize an issue of dock bonds to the value of $275,000 for this purpose. Police Commissioner Martin, who stood behind acting Mayor Arnold's chair, whispered to Chamberlain Crain:

The Chamberlain did so.

A resolution to this effect was passed.

The Dock Board may now begin condomnation proceedings. The city is airceafy the owner of 11,000 of the 15,000 lineal feet of the Park front. The Dock Board proposes to acquire all the piers on the North River between the Battery and 125th street. It has offered the Pennsylvania Railroad Company $250,000 for old Pier 1 and $125,000 for half of old Pier 1. The other piers not acquired for which offers have been made are Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, and 10. If the owners of these piers refuse to sell the piers may be condemned and purchased through the courts. COMMISSIONER DANA MADE PRESIDENT

The Park Board Also Appoints a New Superintendent of the Zao.

During a temporary absence of Park Commissioner Paul Dana from the meeting room of the Park Board yesterday, in executive session, he was unanimously elected President of He succeeds Commissioner Gallup, who proposed his election. The President is the only member of the Board who receives a salary. He gets $5,000 a year. It is customary for the members of the Board to hold the office of President in rotation.

The Board appointed John W. Smith director of the Central Park Zoo, to succeed William A. Conklin. Mr. Smith's salary will be $2,000, $200 less than Mr. Conklin received. Mr. Smith will assume control on May 1. The new director lives in the Twenty-third district. He was at one time a coal merchant. Later he was the superintendent of the Second avenue railroad stables. He was elected to the Assembly in 1875. He beat four other contestants in the civil service ex-amination.

That is a matter for him to determine, and his choice will doubtless be a good one. It is yet too early to say whe will he madegeneral manager of the Missouri Facific. The result of the Union Pacific election is gratifying to me hocause I take it as an evidence of the sentiment of a majority of the stockholders that our management has been satisfactory to them and of their helief that the best interests of the company will be conserved by continuing Mr. Sage and my father in the Board. In regard to the London proxies which were voted in our favor I would like to say that they were given to me by Messrs. I. A. Wormser after I had explained to them with considerable detail the condition of the company and my views as to the innortance of retaining in the management men who had stood by it when money was needed. In giving me the proxies they used the discretion which was their right under their instructions from abroad."

Mr. Simon Wormser of I. & S. Wormser denies that the proxies were sent his firm with the understanding that they were to be voted unconditionally for the Boissevain ticket. He said: "The nest refutation of this statement is seen in the fact that the proxy sent Mr. Boissevain was revoked and one sent us. MR. GOULD BUYS A NEW ROAD,

He Pays $50,000 for an Abandoned Enterprise that Started from El Paso.

El Paso, April 28. - It became known to-day that Jay Gould had purchased the Kansas City, El Paso and Mexican Railroad. This road was projected by capitalists of this city to bring coal, iron, and silver from the White Oaks district to El l'aso. The road also passes through the finest farming section of New Mexico. It was completed from this point Mexico. It was completed from this point ten miles toward White Oaks, where building was suspended for lack of funds, and Charles Davis was appointed receiver. With this purchase Mr. Gould gets ten miles of completed road, with rights of way and grade to White Oaks, N. M., a distance of 150 miles. The Denver and El Paso line has recently been incorporated, and its projectors had intended the purchase of this road as a part of their through line, but when Mr. Gould offered Receiver Davis a check for $50,000 he closed the trade at once.

Davis a check for $50,000 he closed the trade at once.

Mr. Gould has announced that he will remain here several weeks longer in order to press the completion of this new purchase as rapidly as possible. From White Oaks the line will be extended to Washburn, on the Fort Worth and Denver, thence to the Missouri Pacille system at Klowa, Kan. It is said that Mr. Gould has a concession and a subsidy from the Mexican Government for a road through Mexico to Guaymas, on the Gulf of California, and that work must soon be begun on the road in order to hold the subsidy.

East-bound Rates from St. Louis, St. Louis. April 28.—The managers of the St. Louis East-bound lines met here to-day to St. Louis East-bound lines met here to-day to consider the rate situation as affected by the low basis in effect from Chicago to the Eastern seaboard. It was decided to reduce the sixth class rates to 20 cents per 100 pounds from East 81 Louis, taking effect May 4. The Wabash, Vandalia, Big Four. Ohio and Mississippi, and Toledo, 8t. Louis and Kansas City were represented at the meeting.

The United States Grand Jury at Chicago has returned five indictments against Union Pacific officials for rate manipulation. The Texas Bailroad Commissioners hav filed a suit against the Southern Pacific Bail road Company for charging higher rates o wool than those fixed by the Commission.

BRENNEN ACQUITTED TWICE. For the Third Time Comstock Pressed Prac-tiently the Charge Against His When the case against George Brennen, Secretary of the Young Men's Literary Association, for sending an obscene letter to Miss Agues Tames of 43d West Forty-second street, was called in the General Sessions yesterday. Lawyer McLaughlin said he was anxious to have a day set for the trial. Anthony Comstock approached Assistant District Attorney Lynn. the prosecutor, and was about to speak to him case in which you are the real prosecutor, without any assistance from you. You have been persecuting this young man for nearly two years and it is about time that your perse-cution ended."

twe years and it is about time that your persecution ended."

Comstock reddened, and Mr. Lynn turned and eved him sharply, saying:

"If there is anything in this case that is not strictly straightforward, Mr. Comstock, I shall expose it on the trial, no matter whom it hurts."

Comstock left the court room. Mr. Lynn said that he would try the case on Tuesing. Lawyer McLaughlin and his client went into the corridor. There they met Comstock, and McLaughlin said:

"You have bersecuted this young man long enough, and I warn you that if you intend to pursue any uniair methods I will denounce you in open court."

"You know that what you say is not true, sir, retorted Comstock. "I have not pe, secuted this man, and if you say that I have you are a liar and a secundrel."

Court officers interfered. Brennen was arrested in January, 1891, by Comstock on the charge of sending the obseene letter through the mails to Miss Tames, and was tried in the United States Circuit Court in May. He was acquitted. Comstock rearrested him and took him to Special Nessions on the same charge under the State statute. The charge was dismissed, and the Judges of the Special Sessions made some remarks. Then Comstock went to the District Autorney's office, and was allowed to go before the Grand Jury, presumably on another hranch of the sileged offence. An indictment was found for misdemeanor. I was sent for trial to the Special Sessions, but was returned to the General Sessions. It has been tossed around the District Autorney's office by various assistants ever since.

JANITOR BOWEN NOT DISTURBED. Thinks His Son is in Safe Hands, Even i He Has Been Kidnapped.

Charles Bowen, the 12-year-old son of Andrew Bowen, was playing on Wednesday evening in front of the apartment house at 985 Madison street, Brooklyn, of which his ather is the janitor, when a coach drove up and a fine-looking, well-dressed man got out took the boy in his arms, handed him to a woman in the coach, and then got in himself and instructed the driver to himself and instructed the driver to whip up the horses. Some children, who witnessed the incident hurried off in search of Janitor Bowen, and excitedly informed him of the kidnapping. Mr. Bowen received the news without any apparent surprise, and has not asked the police te aid him in searching for the boy. He said:

"My wife and I separated some years ago for reasons which I will never disclose, and the boy has been brought up by me. I am certain, however, that the toy is now in safe hands, and I am not disturbed over his absence."
